Safe Cycling and Rider Etiquette

Peaks Challenge Falls Creek is a ride not a race. We expect all participants to be competent bike riders, to have trained for the event and be familiar with riding on public roads. We also expect participants to have a well maintained bike and be able to perform basic repairs.

Once a rider signs on as a participant in the ride we provide as much information and education as possible to ensure they are well aware of the risks involved and their expected behaviour as a participant. It is important that riders do not take any risks that could put themselves or other riders and road users in a life threatening situation. Riders are advised to respect all road users and obey the road rules and event officials at all times.

Bicycle Network will not support riders on the event who do not obey the laws that cover road use by cyclists. Know your rights and responsibilities when cycling in the Alpine region.
