Today's riding: Dunkeld to Pomonal – 97 kilometres

TODAY'S RIDING

The long ride from Dunkeld to Pomonal is all about stopping to smell the flowers – Pomonal is famous for its beautiful native flowers and orchids. Good news is you probably don't need to ride 97 kilometres to smell the flowers wherever you are, but make sure you take a minute to soak up the great outdoors.

WELCOME TO POMONAL

Having completed the journey from Dunkeld to Pomonal, you would have loved watching harvest ramping up with flocks of sheep supervising from a nearby paddock.

The smell of delicious pies and pastry hits you as you enter Willaura, a town famous for its bakery and community spirit. As you continue onto Pomonal you'll see the gum flowers are starting to bloom against the backdrop of lush rolling green hills. Pomonal is waiting for you with open arms, fresh produce and handmade goods are available at the Pomonal Store.

We missed having you this year, but we excited to see you amongst the gumtrees in 2021.

VOLUNTEER PROFILE – LISA KLUVER

What motivated you to start volunteering on the Great Vic Bike Ride?

I initially volunteered for the Great Vic with a few friends in 2016 as an opportunity to explore new places, meet new people and try something new in between finishing university and starting full-time work.

Tell us a bit about your role in the event control team.

The event control team monitors what is happening on the ride, at the campsite and anywhere in between! We work in shifts to answer phone calls to event assistance line from riders, staff, volunteers and the community who have questions, concerns or queries about the bike ride.

What is your favourite thing about volunteering?

Every day of the Great Vic I am amazed by the scale of the event, the community that is built at each and every camp site and the spectacular new sights and towns we're fortunate enough to explore (so the answer is everything!).

What is your most memorable moment of volunteering on the Great Vic?

I can't choose just one, coming from Tasmania volunteering on the Great Vic has been a great way to explore areas of Victoria that I otherwise probably would never have seen.

I volunteered on the 2016 Great Vic with some friends, and the 2019 with my cousin so it was pretty special to be able to share the whole experience with them too.

What advice would you give to someone thinking about volunteering?

There are so many different roles available on the Great Vic, you'll be sure to find a role that suits you. No matter your age you'll walk away from the Great Vic with heaps of memories, a great new addition to your resume and a lot of new skills!

Lisa Kløver at the 2018 Great Vic.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Great Vic is in no way a competitive bike ride, the beauty is in its relaxed nature, but it has been the catalyst for some professional cycling careers.

Simon Clarke who currently rides for UCI WorldTeam EF Pro Cycling rode many Great Vics and has gone on to ride the Tour de France and win stages at the Vuelta a España. Simon regularly comes back to the Great Vic to ride a day with a school group.

Sarah Gigante is another Great Vic alumnus. She currently rides for UCI Women's Continental Team Tibco–Silicon Valley Bank and in 2019 stunned the bike world by taking out both the U23s road race and the elite road race at the national championships in Buninyong, beating seasoned pros from around the world.
